

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

41. A description of pain that occurs with acute myocardial infarction is:

- a. Pain that worsens with leaning or sitting forward
- b. Pain that decrease with swallowing
- c. Abrupt onset of pain that resolves with decrease activities.
- d. Pain that intensifies with a deep breath

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

42. These particular drugs increases coronary arteries filling by prolonging diastole in a patient with myocardial infarction :

- a. Beta blockers
- b. Calcium channel blockers
- c. ACE
- d. ACE inhibitors

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

43. This is an oxygen binding protein found in skeletal and cardiac muscles :

- a. Troponin
- b. Myoglobin
- c. CK-MB
- d. Isoform CK

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

44. The most common manifestation of myocardial infarction is:

- a. Acute onset of chest pain
- b. Anxiety
- c. Nausea and vomiting
- d. Inadequate cardiac output

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

45. The following are immediate complications of tracheostomy EXCEPT:

- a. Haemorrhage
- b. Apnoea
- c. Cardiac arrest
- d. Stenosis

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

46. The process or procedure used in sorting patients according to the degree of severity of their condition during disaster is called :

- a. Primary survey
- b. Triage
- c. Emergency sorting
- d. Pre-arrival assessment

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

47. A nurse while conducting vital signs monitoring for a patient with enlarged thyroid detect pulse rate of 40 beat per minute. The nurse knows that this patient is having:

- a. Tachycardia
- b. Heart block
- c. Thyroid crisis
- d. Bradycardia

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

48. A nurse while conducting a physical examination on newly admitted patient observed that, the patient is photophobic, easily irritated by alarm sounds in the unit. The most likely condition of this patient is :

- a. Tetanus
- b. Epilepsy
- c. Meningitis
- d. Severe malaria

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

49. As a nurse working in a medical ward, the nervous system can inhibit or stimulate the activities of other systems in order to maintain :

- a. Integration
- b. Mental balance
- c. Homeostasis
- d. Action potential

SELECT THE MOST APPROPRIATE OPTION

50. The following cranial nerves serve as a motor nerve to tongue muscle :

- a. Olfactory nerve
- b. Oculomotor nerve
- c. Vagus nerve
- d. Hypoglossal nerve