

KAAF UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, GHANA

FACULTY OF HEALTH AND ALLIED SCIENCES (FHAS)

SCHOOL OF NURSING AND MIDWIFERY

MEDICAL NURSING I QUIZ – SANDWICH 2023

INSTRUCTIONS

Pick the most appropriate options that best answers the following questions. All questions carry equal marks.

1. Which pain scale is the most sensitive to gender and ethnic differences?

- a. Numerical
- b. Flacc
- c. Verbal
- d. Visual

2. When a nurse enters the patient's room to begin a nursing history taking, the patient's wife is there. What should the nurse do a. Introduce one-self and ask the patient if he would like the wife to stay.

- b. Introduce one-self and ask the wife if she wants to remain.
- c. Introduce one-self and ask the wife to leave.
- d. Introduce one-self and thank the wife for being present.

3. The supine position is most suitable for examining all of the following body parts EXCEPT?

- a. Anterior thorax
- b. Female genitalia
- c. Hands and feet
- d. Head and neck

4. Which of the following steps is the final step that is used during the physical assessment of the abdomen?

- a. Deep palpation
- b. Inspection
- c. Percussion
- d. Light palpation

5. Auscultation sound is characteristically described with the following terms EXCEPT?

- a. Dull
- b. Loud
- c. Medium
- d. Soft

6. During abdominal assessment, which of the under-listed organs, displaces the right kidney, thus making the lower pole palpable

- a. Liver
- b. Kidney
- c. Spleen
- d. Gallbladder

7. Sandra is suffering from constipation; according to you as a nurse, which is the appropriate nursing intervention for maintaining normal bowel function?

- a. Assessing dietary intake
- b. All the above
- c. Turning and coughing.
- d. Deep breathing

8. When checking a medical record, you noticed that the patient remarked, "I've had a cough for the previous ten days, and my chest feels really tight" What does this illustration represent in assessment?

- a. Chief Complaint
- b. Family history
- c. Functional assessment
- d. Past history

9. During abdominal assessment, which of the under-listed organs, is located at the level of the 10th rib lateral to the left midaxillary line (LMAL).

- a. Liver
- b. Kidney
- c. Gallbladder
- d. Spleen

10. Which of the following is a normal finding in the abdominal assessment of an adult?

- a. Rebound tenderness in the right lower quadrant
- b. Shifting dullness

c. A tympanic percussion note in the umbilical region

- d. A palpable spleen between the ninth and eleventh ribs in the left mid-axillary line

11. During assessment, an abdomen that is bulging and stretched in appearance is described as:

a. Protuberant

- b. Herniated
- c. Rounded
- d. Scaphoid

12. Which pain scale would be the most appropriate for a patient who is unable to communicate their pain or in an unconscious state?

- a. Numerical
- b. Verbal

c. Flacc

- d. Faces

13. The nurse is planning to palpate a client's bladder. Over which area of the abdomen should the nurse palpate?

- a. Left lower quadrant
- b. Right lower quadrant

c. Hypogastric region

- d. Epigastric region

14. When palpating the abdomen of a client the nurse notes the presence of tenderness in the left upper quadrant (LUQ). Which of the following structures is most likely to be involved?

- a. Gallbladder
- b. Appendix
- c. Liver

d. Spleen

15. Which sound should you expect to hear when you percuss the liver during a complete physical assessment?

a. Dullness

- b. Tympany
- c. Flatness
- d. Resonance

16. Which of the theories under disease causation has Chinese origin

- a. Germ theory
- b. Yang and yin theory

- c. Miasmatic theory
- d. Humours theory

17. In which situation would a focused assessment be most appropriate?

- a. College student health exam
- b. New admission scheduled for a total knee replacement
- c. New employee physical exam

d. Patient admitted with chest pain

18. During Pain assessment, the history of presenting complaint include all the following EXCEPT;

- a. Site (where is it?)
- b. Onset (sudden, gradual)
- c. Character (what is it like?) burning, throbbing

d. What's the next biggest problem?

19. Nurse Rita after tepid sponging a patient rechecks the patient ascertains a reduction body temperature. Which component of the nursing process is carrying out?

- a. Assessment

b. Evaluation

- c. Implementation
- d. Planning

20. All the following can be achieved by light palpation EXCEPT

a. Liver contour

- b. Pulsations
- c. Temperature
- d. Tenderness.

21. The nurse learns a client has been taking more than three times the recommended amount of an over-the-counter pain (OTC) reliever on a daily basis for several months. On the basis of this finding, which of the following is the nurse most concerned about?

a. Potential for liver function alterations

b. Potential for alterations in pancreatic enzyme production

c. Potential for gallbladder alterations

d. Potential for variation in insulin metabolism

22. The technique of physical examination in which the nurse uses the sense of sight, hearing and smell to detect change or otherwise of structure and function the body known as

a. Auscultation

b. Inspection

c. Palpation

d. Percussion

23. A disease condition characterized by a combination of kyphosis and scoliosis

a. Lordoscoliosis

b. Scoliokyphosis

c. Kypholordosis

d. Kyphoscoliosis

24. Andrews, a 36-year-old male client will be discharged from the hospital after five days due to surgery. Which of the following intervention should be included in home health care instructions of nurses regarding measures to prevent constipation?

a. The client has to fill a 2-L bottle with water each night and drink it the next day.

b. Running a marathon for exercise

c. The client has to eat more than 3 times a day.

d. The client has to establish a bowel evacuation schedule, and it should be changed every day.

25. A 70-year-old male client comes into the clinic with weight loss and difficulty swallowing. Which of the following should the nurse document for this client?

a. Odynophagia

b. Dysphagia

c. Esophagitis

d. Aphasia

26. A physician during anterior chest wall auscultation tells nurse Asantewaa that he hears a low-pitched sound with a longer inspiratory phase over the lung fields, nurse Asantewaa is right if her interpretation of the sound is

a. Bronchial

b. Bronchovesicular

c. Tracheal

d. Vesicular

27. A type of assessment which involves a detailed history and physical examination performed at the onset of care in a primary care setting or on admission to a hospital is known as

a. Focused system assessment

b. Head-to-toe assessment

c. Screening assessment

d. Shift assessment

28. Which of the theories under disease causation was postulated or credited to Robert Koch and others for the discovery of microbes

a. Germ theory

b. Miasmatic theory

c. Yang and yin theory

d. Humours theory

29. During abdominal assessment, which of the under-listed organs, is located Posterior to the abdominal contents and situated in the retroperitoneal space, protected by the 11th and 12th pairs of ribs.

a. Kidney

b. Liver

c. Spleen

d. Gallbladder

30. During abdominal assessment, which of the under-listed organs, is located in the upper right quadrant of the abdomen, inferior to the liver and lateral to the right midclavicular line (RMCL);

a. Kidney

b. Liver

c. Gallbladder

d. Spleen