

d. Unity of Command

Correct answer: b. Division of Work

Explanation:

Division of Work increases efficiency and expertise by task specialization.

16. During an obstetric emergency, one midwife performs chest compressions, another manages the airway, and a third records interventions and timings. This structured allocation of tasks demonstrates which of Fayol's principles?

a. Unity of Direction

b. Division of Work

c. Subordination of individual interest

d. Remuneration

Correct answer: b. Division of Work

Explanation:

Each person performs a specific role for maximum efficiency and speed.

17. A hospital's top management decides that all hiring and budgeting decisions must be approved by them, removing this power from individual department heads. This is an example of:

- a. Centralization
- b. Decentralization
- c. Scalar Chain
- d. Equity

Correct answer: a. Centralization

Explanation:

Centralization concentrates decision-making authority at the top.

18. In a highly decentralized nursing department, which level of management would you expect to have the most autonomy in creating their unit's annual budget and staff recruitment plan?

- a. Top-Level Management (e.g., Chief Nursing Officer)
- b. Middle Management (e.g., Unit Nurse Manager)
- c. The role would not change; budgeting is always a top-level function.
- d. First-Line Management (e.g., Charge Nurse)

Correct answer: b. Middle Management (Unit Nurse Manager)

Explanation:

In decentralization, middle managers gain more authority over budgeting and staffing.

19. If a hospital's scalar chain is described as

'over-stretched, what is the most likely consequence for a unit or midwifery manager?

- a. Their scope of authority and responsibility increases significantly.
- b. Communication between top management and frontline staff becomes inefficient and distorted.
- c. They will spend more time in direct patient or client care.
- d. The principle of Unity of Command is strengthened.

Correct answer: b. Communication becomes inefficient and distorted

Explanation:

Too many layers delay messages and increase miscommunication.

20. What is the primary focus of Nursing Administration?

- a. Exclusively managing student nurses
- b. Performing direct clinical procedures

- c. Handling public relations for the hospital
- d. The strategic management of nursing personnel, patient care, and facility resources

Correct answer: d. Strategic management of nursing personnel, patient care, and facility resources

Explanation:

Nursing administration focuses on planning, organizing, directing, and controlling nursing services.

21. A postpartum patient reports receiving conflicting instructions about breastfeeding positions from the midwife on duty and the lactation consultant. Which management principle should be applied to prevent such confusion?

- a. Stability of staff tenure
- b. Unity of Command
- c. Fair compensation for staff
- d. Centralization of decision-making

Correct answer: b. Unity of Command

Explanation:

Unity of Command states each worker should receive orders from only one supervisor to avoid confusion.

22. According to the managerial hierarchy, who would MOST likely be responsible for conducting the annual performance appraisal for a staff nurse?

- a. The Nurse Manager of the specific unit (Middle Management)
- b. The Chief Nursing Officer (Top-Level)
- c. The Hospital's Chief Executive Officer (Top-Level)
- d. A senior staff nurse acting as a preceptor (Non-Managerial)

Correct answer: a. Nurse Manager of the unit (Middle Management)

Explanation:

Middle managers directly supervise staff and are responsible for performance evaluations.

23. A nurse manager ensures that the performance appraisal process is transparent, consistent, and based on the same criteria for every nurse on the unit. This practice fosters a sense of:

a. Order

b. Equity

c. Authority

d. Initiative

Correct answer: b. Equity

Explanation:

Consistency and fairness promote trust and morale.

24. A nurse wants to leave early for a personal event and tries to persuade a colleague to cover the last hour of her shift without informing the manager. The colleague refuses, stating it could compromise patient safety and is against unit policy. The colleague is upholding the principle of:

a. Centralization

b. Unity of Command

c. Esprit de Corps

d. Subordination of individual interest to general interest

Correct answer: d. Subordination of individual interest to general interest

Explanation:

Patient safety and unit policy outweigh personal convenience.

25. Which of Fayol's principles states that the interests of the organization should take priority over individual interests?

- a. Equity
- b. Subordination of individual to general interest
- c. Initiative
- d. Order

Correct answer: b. Subordination of individual to general interest

Explanation:

This principle prioritizes organizational goals above personal ones.

26. The principle of Centralization, as discussed by Fayol, would most directly impact the decision-making authority of which management level if implemented strictly?

- a. It would primarily affect non-managerial clinical staff.
- b. It would delegate more authority to Middle Management.

- c. It would empower First-Line Management with autonomous control.
- d. It would enhance the decision-making power of Top-Level Management.

Correct answer: d. Top-Level Management

Explanation:

Centralization strengthens top-level authority in decision-making.

27. Which of the following is NOT a characteristic of the nature of administration?

- a. It is holistic
- b. It is static
- c. It is universal
- d. It is intangible

Correct answer: b. It is static

Explanation:

Administration is dynamic, not static — it evolves with organizational needs.

28. During a shift, a junior nurse is asked to perform a task by the charge nurse.

Simultaneously, a physician gives her a different, urgent task. The nurse is confused about whose order to prioritize. This confusion could have been avoided by better adhering to:

- a. The principle of Remuneration
- b. The principle of Unity of Command
- c. The principle of Order
- d. The principle of Centralization

Correct answer: b. Unity of Command

Explanation:

Following one clear authority prevents confusion and errors.

29. A nurse manager notices tension and poor communication between the day and night shift teams, which is affecting patient handovers. She organizes a team-building activity to improve morale. This addresses the principle of:

- a. Division of Work
- b. Esprit de Corps
- c. Scalar Chain

d. Centralization

Correct answer: b. Esprit de Corps

Explanation:

Esprit de Corps promotes team spirit, harmony, and cooperation.

30. A Charge Nurse on a shift (First-Line Management) is most likely to apply which type of skill when reallocating patient assignments in response to a sudden admission of a critically ill patient?

- a. Conceptual Skills to realign the unit's strategic goals.
- b. Primarily Technical Skills to perform the clinical tasks themselves.
- c. Human Relations Skills to manage team dynamics under stress.
- d. Financial Skills to assess the cost of the new admission.

Correct answer: c. Human Relations Skills

Explanation:

Managing staff stress, communication, and cooperation is essential in emergencies.